de ARYAN to be 'INVESTIGATED'

Political "Smear" Campaign Planned

Jack Tenney to Come to San Diego

By C. LEON de ARYAN

I believe that every citizen of the U. S. should contribute his best services to the common weal. Since this country is at war and we are in danger of being bombed, regardless of what our religious scruples against war and violence may be, there comes a time when we will have to take care of the damage done by warfare. There are thousands of conscientious objectors who refuse to join the armed forces to inflict violence on others and break the TEN COMMANDMENTS, which, as queer as it may seem, are still the ALL pervading LAW of this universe and rank above the Congress and the President. Among these thousands of C. O. there are men who have marvelous ideals of self-sacrificing service and they should be taken out of the various forestry camps and placed in localities where their fearless and self-sacrificing ideals may have an opportunity for expression in useful service to the country in times of danger. Being men of the highest caliber, the incarnated result of the highest type of education given them at home, in school and church, namely to love God with all their might and their fellowman as themselves and therefore fear no man, such men wade into the greatest dangers unarmed, except for a clear mind, to salvage and save those whom they can reach and protect.

Since the London civilian defense chairman, A. Emil Davies, said in Los Angeles that his government found it necessary to hire Air Raid Wardens and pay them for their work because volunteers cannot devote their time exclusively to air raid work and are not amenable to orders, since they give their time and service voluntarily as their business permits them; it is plain that we, too, will and are facing the same situation here. Therefore I am suggesting to Mrs. Roosevelt that she take steps to select such C. O. who are fitted by their ideals and intelligence to do the work of Air Raid Wardens and organize their sectors on a 24 hour basis, by transferring such C. O. all over the coastal danger zones, giving them a hut outfitted as air raid headquarters with a cot and a stove to batch and enough food to look after themselves, and let them serve there on duty, to save and salvage and protect life and property, which they will happily and conscientiously do, because it is exactly the thing they love to do. They are loyal Americans in their own way. In this way we solve two problems with one stroke.

I took up this matter with Armistead Carter of San Diego who recommended that I talk it over with Dr. E. L. Hardy, former president of the San Diego state college. He in turn suggested that I discuss it with the Quakers who are in charge of the C. O. camps. I followed his advice and talked it over with the local Friends' representative who sent me to Pasadena to see the Friend in charge there. Last Wednesday I presented my plan to him and he recommended that I brief it to be forwarded with his own comments to Philadelphia for the consideration of the Friend in charge of all this work who might take the matter to the White House.

Since I had to go to Pasadena I decided to utilize the occasion to call on my various subscribers in Los Angeles, some of whom I had never met before. I renewed my friendship with several who used to live in San Diego and called on the new ones, making very valuable contacts. While in Los Angeles I received the warning that Jack Tenney, Chairman of the Fact Finding Committee on un-American Activities had on his schedule a session in San Diego to call me on the carpet and quiz me for public consumption by branding me a "Nazi" and a "Jew-hater".

Assemblyman Tenney is welcome to all the publicity and political preferments he hopes to get out of such a procedure. If he wants publicity he will get it. Who will be the real winner in such a duel of wits, dialectics and "fact finding" maneuvers before the forum of San Diego's public, is to be seen. Indeed, it will be a very interesting session. The theme of it will be, "V" campaign vs. the "Cross of Christ" and we shall see what we shall see.

"V" CAMPAIGN vs. THE "CROSS OF CHRIST"

Whether I am in the pay of the "Nazis" or a fearless American editor who takes his oath of allegiance to the constitution seriously enough to live up to it, is something you folks can decide for yourself much better than a political fledgling who tries to please certain elements in Hollywood and south of Broadway in the pawnshop district of San Diego.

As to my being an anti-Semite and "Jew-hater", of course, Jack will have to define those terms and specify those charges and adduce proof from my writings to base his questions on, otherwise I don't have to answer them. And when we get started defining terms and adducing "evidence" all I need to do is ask: "Which Jews?" You know there are two kinds, the honest and the treacherous. I am sure Jack will love the publicity he will get once he and I tangle up. He'll love it—like ———!! So come on and get your facts, my friend, and we shall see whether truth prevails or the smear is mightier when one tangles up with the editor of THE BROOM.

Ever since the days of Lucifer there has been going on a battle between the sons of God and the rebellious hosts of darkness, treachery and double-crossing. The question is always, should one attempt to take the kingdom of God by force and violence or by obedience to God's commandments? This question has still to be answered by every living being, individually. Lucifer and his followers are lined up on the side of force, Christ and His hosts stand firm on the principle of TRUTH which each one of us must learn to know in order to become free from the sophistries of the Lucifer "scribes and Pharisees" who stalk the unwary by quoting scripture even. The New York SUN, July 28, carried the following:

"V" FOR VICTORY IS EVERYWHERE

Ancient Symbol of Jewish Temple Stands as Sign of Hope to Conquerors.

Spreading steadily in spite of the Nazis is the use of the letter V as the symbol throughout Europe of victory against the forces of oppression.

V is for victory and no one is quite sure how it started. What all know, though, is that each day it gains strength and significance through a remarkable evergrowing series of coincidences.

An Ancient Symbol

Stranger than story, almost, is the new realization now that the sign of V has for thousands of years been a significant symbol in the religion of the Jews, most persecuted of all by the Nazis. For centuries the Kohanim, descendants of the priestly tribe of the temple which Titus destroyed 2,000 years ago, have formed a V with fingers of the hands in bestowing the blessing on assembled worshippers.

The hands are upraised during the priestly blessing with the thumb, the first and middle fingers separated from the ring fingers in an unmistakable sign of the V. The ancient significance is that the rays of the Shekinah, or manifestation of God, may stream upon those assembled—

TAKING THE SIGN OF GOD IN VAIN

It is quite evident that once more "the rays of the Shekinah, or manifestation of God" are being perverted to criminal uses. "Revenge is Mine, says the Lord", but V stands for victory on the fields of slaughter, it stands for violence, vengeance and sabotage. That is how it is being used.

"God does not want the death even of a sinner". Whenever black magic is being resorted to by perverting the sign of God for murder, plunder and bloodlust then each one of us has to make his individual choice. Will we line up with the sons of God under the sign of the Christ or with hatred and bloodlust under the sign of the abused Shekinah? Where the Jew turns traitor to his own God and resorts to double-dealing he double-crosses himself because the cross of Christ, of LOVE and Forebearance will always shed the light of truth upon treachery, and prevail!

WILL WE WIN THE WAR? — IMPOSSIBLE !

Nobody ever won a war and as Jefferson said, there never was a good war or a bad peace. Every war has been lost by the U. S. A. because what one gains temporarily on the fields of battle is lost at the peace table or after peace has been concluded. Washington won at Valley Forge, but lost in the U. S. congress when Rothschild established the banking system in these U. S. contrary to the provisions of the U. S. Constitution, which provides that only congress shall coin money. The Rothschild lobbyists pushed a bill through congress by which they and their clan and their cohorts "coin" the banknotes and produce the "checking accounts" which are the REAL coining of money and credit in the financial activities of the nation.

The House of Rothschild came into power by financing the expedition of the King's hired Hessians to fight General Washington. George licked them in the field, but no sooner was the "independence" from the King proclaimed than Rothschild moved into Washington through the banking system of "coining" money and has ruled us ever since. Rothschild became the "Bank of England" when Napoleon lost at Waterloo and Rothschild spread the treacherous rumor in England that Napoleon had won. That ruined the value of stocks and bonds which Rothschild bought up for almost nothing. When the truth came to light that Napoleon had lost Rothschild held the paper and became boss of the "Bank of England" to this day. The same financial combination was the "Bank of France" till Hitler took over.

How, then, did we win the war of "independence"? Besides who pays for England's war today and who sends our American boys to protect the British empire? What war did we ever win? Did we bring back to life the dead? Is that "winning" when we lose our flower of manhood? The only ones who ever win are those who sell us bonds and collect interest by printing our money at 30 cents for $1000, LENDING it to us at face value PLUS everlasting interest. They get rich at our expense and control the world. For them we bleed ourselves and destroy this very constitution of ours which we have sworn to uphold. We abrogate it as we are doing right now, piece meal and wholesale.

Believe it or not— but God and His Ten Commandments still rank above the congress and the president with their man-made laws and commands. In the end God wins and passes judgment on us. On that day what will you say?

Fear Not! — — — God is here; there is none mightier.

Britons Blame "Uncle Shylock" for Malayan Fiasco

LONDON,—The widely read Reynolds News suggested that Churchill's defense against criticism of set-backs on the Pacific ocean front will be made easier by "America's frank admission of the failure of her Pearl Harbor chiefs" because, it said, "it has been an open secret that our own set-backs were in large measure due to the absence of promised support from America."

"This fact," it added, "explains why the Malayan coast was left open to Japanese attack and was partly responsible for the lack of protection for the Prince of Wales and the Repulse."

YALE UNIVERSITY WANTS "BROOM"

We received a letter from the librarian of the Yale University asking us for back copies as well as current issues of our paper "which reflect the many phases of war-time thought and activity". It is quite evident that he came to the right place to get such reflexions. But in order to send him the complete file of the current volume XII, we will have to ask our friends who perhaps have a copy of Nos. 1, 2, 3 and 5 to mail us one. These are copies of Sept. 30; Oct. 6, 13 and 27 of 1941. Simply address THE BROOM, East San Diego and we shall be much obliged to you for this friendly service.

BELIEVE IT OR NOT

The librarians of Congress, Yale, Harvard and New York libraries are carefully collecting each copy of THE BROOM and are asking for missing copies to keep their files intact and bound, while you cannot find THE BROOM in the San Diego library. Evidently the prophet is not honored in his own home town!

We recently acquired so many new subscribers in various states in the union, that we cannot answer all correspondence personally. We simply have not the time and have no secretary to do the work for us. To satisfy the various requests about our own person, since we have not published our picture for quite a spell, here they are to facilitate a better acquaintance with our new friends and readers.

VOTE OF CONFIDENCE IN U. S. FINANCING WAR — LOOKS LIKE

I note again that the English Parliament once more votes "confidence in Churchill". It appears to me that they should at least vote this confidence, especially should they be confident and pleased in the fact that Churchill and the English seem to be supplying nothing more toward winning this war than the gift of gab, and confident in the fact that Uncle Sam is furnishing all the billions of dollars and now millions of men to get the job done. Yes the British vote the confidence that Uncle Sam will vote the bonds.—Roy O. Akers.

The Four Gospels

Translated from the Aramaic into English

By L. SABIN KENWORTHY

Mr. Kenworthy is a master of the ancient Greek, Hebrew and Aramaic languages, and has devoted much study and research to ascertain original meanings. In comparing this translation with the King James, one is surprised at the many new and divergent meanings brought out. A history of the making of the King James Bible reveals why so many errors in translation crept in. First, translation and interpretation are colored more or less by the minds they come through. Second, the Bible was translated 300 years ago in the spirit of the prevailing beliefs. Third, King James instructed the translators not to offend popular beliefs. In that age persecution and even death was the penalty for promulgating new ideas. One authority who has compared the King James Bible with the original sources claims that there are at least 15,000 mistranslations. The men who were allotted the task of translating the Old Testament for King James had all died before the Psalms were reached, and from there on the task was entrusted to one mind. We hope, some day, someone with means will come forth and employ a group of our best Hebrew, Greek & Aramaic scholars to give us an accurate translation with copious notes, especially where the passages are ambiguous, and provide the possible meanings. There should be metaphysicians on this staff and all should be broad-minded, unbiased, universal in thought, and not dominated by any ism or creed. Not having the means to put this work out in book form, Mr. Kenworthy has mimeographed it.

Governmental Control Rapped By State Official

SAN JOSE.—Assailing what he conceived as excessive governmental control, C. C. Baker, president of the California railroad commission, addressed the state farm bureau federation.

"Official encroachment upon individual liberties and states' rights in this country is of recent origin," he declared.

"And how significant that this insidious movement was charted almost concurrently with the triumph of dictatorship in continental Europe."

He told the big farm meeting that "unauthorized assumption of power was sought to be justified under a declaration of national emergency about eight years ago."

White House Shelter a "Military Secret"

A Bomb shelter for President and Mrs. Roosevelt and the White House executive staff is being built between the presidential mansion and the U. S. Treasury building, according to the Chicago TRIBUNE press service.

During House debate on a $550,000 deficiency appropriation, Representative Clare E. Hoffman of Michigan opposed the project, asserting there is ample room for shelter in "the empty Treasury vaults."

"There is nothing in the Treasury vaults except I.O.U.'s anyway," the Congressman declared. "I can't see the justice in spending the money for this ditch between the White House and Treasury for the safety of the White House staff when other Americans—the common, ordinary Americans' boys—are out in the front, exposed to all the dangers of war while they fight our battles. It seems to me this money might better be spent for guns and ammunition for those boys!"

The TRIBUNE account adds:

"Mr. Roosevelt is reported to have issued the order for the construction of the bomb shelter shortly after signing the declaration of war on Japan, setting aside funds out of blank check accounts given him by Congress for 'defense purposes'.

"Heretofore, no newspaper has been permitted to print information on the project because the Administration placed it in the category of a 'military secret'.

"Mr. Hoffman's mention of it on the floor of the House," the TRIBUNE says, "made it privileged for publication."—Social Justice.

EVIL DEEDS

Our actions just live on and on.
We hope that others will forget
Our wicked sins. But they live on,
No matter how we grieve and fret.

The crimes of Hitler will endure
Through countless ages evermore
And thousands must despise his friends,
Who helped him launch his cruel war.

Posterity will not forget
The wrongs of Germans and of Japs.
Disdained by countless hordes of men,
They'll curse their rulers with lusty yaps.
—Emelda Deshaies.

Lindbergh

Pygmies may hurl pebbles at pyramids but the pyramids will not be shaken. Charles Lindbergh, who demonstrated his skill, valor and true American spirit, when he spanned the seas, will be remembered when his traducers are forgotten.

This great nation, unlike Nazi Germany, was built upon freedom of thought and speech. Any time we deviate from these principles we are guilty of upholding the narrow, stifling policies which have wrecked the Old World.

Colonel Lindbergh, with millions of patriotic men and women who upheld his views, should be congratulated, not condemned. They demonstrated their patriotism by instantly abandoning their personal opinions re: our involvement in foreign wars, to follow their President and country, after the attack on Pearl Harbor.

We are now united as a people, and former differences and disagreements should be forgotten in our march toward victory. One thing is certain: past rancors and resentments have no place in present plans.

Professor Frowns On War Marriage

MILLS COLLEGE.—Young women whose education and training have not fully fitted them for self-support should guard against rushing into marriage under the pressure of war hysteria, says Dr. John H. Furbay, marriage authority.

In a lecture to students of his course on "Marriage and the Family" at Mills college, Dr. Furbay strongly advised against girls' leaving high school or college to get married.

"Two factors must be considered by every girl faced with continuing school or getting married because the boy friend is to go off to war," he said. "In the first place, immature marriages are always a gamble for statistics show that those who marry under the age of 21 are more than twice as likely to be unhappy in marriage as those who marry after 21."

Because of the labor shortage store deliveries in New Zealand have been curtailed and hotels have had to limit service to guests.

Declaration of Mazdaznan

By Dr. O. Z. Ha'nish

Mazdaznan is the new name spoken of by the Prophets, Poets and Saviors, revealing the designs of the Spirit of the Times.

Mazdaznan shall the password be in all walks of Life, revealing firmness of Mind and happiness thru Perfect Health, assuring the treasures of Wealth that forever flow from out the Horn of Plenty before the feet of the Children of Men as their blessing and birthright by virtue of their relationship unto God, with whom all creation is at one, even as "I and the Father are at one."

Mazdaznan needs not proselyte or seek to gain adherents to its teachings, recognizing the principle of Demand and Supply as to position, time and condition, corresponding with Cause and Effect.

Mazdaznan invites all Mankind to its most glorious Message and Gospel of Peace, Liberty and Individual Rights without money or price, imparting ways and means unto Science and Faith free from obligations, leaving it to its adherents to voluntarily perform their part.

Mazdaznan proclaims and sounds its Infinite Message to the honest in heart and asks them to come and prove for themselves that the hour has come for Truth to be revealed, demonstrating perfect Manhood and noble Womanhood.

Mazdaznan asks of the Redeemed and Reclaimed to help declare the Message of Peace and gather the elect from the four corners of the Earth, declaring Hope and Good Cheer with Blessings of all Good Things unto all the world.

Mazdaznan beseeches the Awakened to proclaim the Word of Promise on all occasions, and, furthermore, demands of the world to live up to its confessions, irrespective of creed, caste or color.

Mazdaznan invites investigation, demands demonstration, and asks for abilities as well as possibilities, to which there is no end, reminding one another that the greatest lesson in Life to learn and the grandest achievement possible lies in the realization of the maxim of Ainyahita: "Stand alone and mind thy own. That alone will sin atone."

Mazdaznan recognizes that a nation can not rise above the level of its Women, and for this reason places its hope for the realization of the Millennial Age in the education of Women, that by virtue of the control of maternal laws the latent forces of the Life to be incarnated thru the power of Thought may bring forth Saviors, making our land the Savior Nation of the Earth and thus tend to redeem Mankind from the influences of superstition, ignorance, witchcraft and the hypnotic spells of past antiquity.

Mazdaznan assures thru its practices true Individualism that leads to practical Collectivism, rebuilding the old society of chaotic tendencies unto the formation of a new order of things in the society of Man, thus realizing that "the old has passed away; behold, I shall make all things new".

Mazdaznan places no restriction upon its members, but assures perfect Freedom guided by reason, consideration, logic, discrimination, judging all things from Cause to Effect and the manifold attributes of the Mind, Soul and Spirit.

THE VITAMIN RACKET

Dear Friend de Aryan:

The following report, which appeared in the "New York Times", coincides with what I have observed and written about for years—that "vitamins" by themselves are a gigantic hoax.

If only natural foods in natural combinations—no de-natured foods are eaten, we do not have to worry about making up this or that "deficiency".

Dr. Geo. Starr White

SCOFF AT VITAMINS AS AN AID IN DIET
Six A. M. A. Scientists Say Evidence of Value in Increasing Production Is Vague
Special to The New York Times.

CHICAGO, Jan. 13.—A report by six medical scientists stating that vitamins had been overrated, and that there was no scientific evidence to demonstrate that they were of any great value was read today before the annual Congress on Industrial Health of the American Medical Association.

Dr. J. S. McLester of Birmingham, Ala., chairman of the association's council on foods and nutrition, gave the report which, he said, followed a survey made last Summer. Also on the council are Drs. R. M. Wilder of the Mayo Clinic; L. D. Bristol, medical director of the American Telephone and Telegraph Company; Clarence D. Selby, medical director of General Motors, and George R. Cowgill of Yale, and Leroy U. Gardner of Saranac, N. Y.

The question they considered was whether vitamins help to increase defense production.

Dr. Morris Fishbein, editor of the Journal of the American Medical Association, said the verdict of the doctors on vitamins was correct.

"Available evidence does not indicate that if any increased production is obtained in this way it is even sufficient to pay for the vitamins," he asserted. In their report the six doctors said:

"The Council on Foods and Nutrition has always had as one of its guiding principles, to be applied when passing on claims advanced for foods, that there be suitable scientific evidence in support of the claims made.

"Too often it turned out that such evidence is not at hand, but rather a body of the vague sort illustrated by the statement, 'We got good reports from doctors and others'. Essentially the same situation appears to prevail with respect to administration of vitamins to industrial workers by their employers.

"There is no body of scientific information at present upon which to base a recommendation. Industry would better spend the money on research than on vitamin pills.

"Nutritional committees are being established in many States, and industrialists and their plant leaders may obtain advice from them," the report added. "Industry, without indulging in the wholesale use of vitamin pills, could make far greater use for its resources for health and nutrition than it has so far done."

War Brutalizes

NEW YORK.— The war will make bad boys worse is the warning which social workers are quietly circulating among educators, parent groups and others interested in juvenile delinquency. They base their fears on 1917-18 and on fresh reports from Great Britain and this country. Since men are scarce overseas, boys as young as 14 years get high wages. Some quit school and fritter away their leisure and pay on reckless pursuits. An unaccustomed amount of money in inexperienced hands is causing trouble for truant officer and policeman.

In the United States, according to recent private surveys made by the Committee on Children in a Democracy, crowded defense factory areas are bad environments for the little folks of newcomers. In a strange city there is nobody "who knows Johnnie and hence can tattle on him". This freedom from Mrs. Grundy's prying spectacles leads the lad into temptation. When mothers get jobs in war plants home supervision suffers. The unrest and excitement of the times create an atmosphere favorable for rash adventure. There is danger in children thinking "every day is Hallowe'en night".

As father and older brother enter the services all parental authority is thrown on mother's shoulders. Clubs, Boy Scouts and similar organizations are losing valuable leaders as young men join the army or navy or become industrial workers. Rationing of rubber threatens to increase tire stealing, even in normal times a crime within the range of under-aged lawbreakers.

—Albert N. Leman.

Economic Laws Will Prevail

A good many thinking people have been wondering whether there will be any use to have books on economics, or to teach economics in schools and colleges if monopolies and governments continue to thwart the operation of economic laws. For example, what will be the use of studying the law of supply and demand if its operation is to be frustrated by monopoly or by governmental control and price-fixing?

In fact, the trend away from economic science and economic laws has gone so far that many people believe we should no longer bother our heads about them, but admit that we are living in a legislated economy, and go in for pressure-group methods. Even a good many professional economists are not now teaching economic science, but political tinkering with economic matters.

One interference with the operation of economic laws calls for other interferences, until the course leads to strait-jacket control all around. That is the point at which the peoples of several nations have already arrived. We were moving rapidly toward it in this country even before the armament program, and now our participation in the war has quickened the pace.

But we dare to believe that economic laws, natural laws in the economic field, will ultimately prevail. Interference breaks down of its own weight and unwieldiness. It burdens the people with an intolerable load of bureaucracy, without establishing economic well-being. It thwarts the inborn desire of people to be free—free to satisfy their needs in the most direct way without hampering rules and restrictions.

Instead of giving up the study and consideration of economic laws and economic science, we should strive for the fullest knowledge and understanding of them. Instead of trying to thwart the operation of economic laws, we should give our attention to permitting them to work.

—Nebraska Union Farmer.

Stupid

NEW YORK, N. Y.—On the eve of war General Tojo, Japanese prime minister, said, "The empire stands at the crossroads of its rise or fall. I am awed with trepidation at my limited ability." Naval officers around New York, who have spent years in contact with the Nipponese, claim we swallowed the mock humility of the last statement, but overlooked the hidden threat of the first. Failure to understand real Japanese motives and moves is one cause of our present trouble.

A well-known retired U. S. admiral recently told friends that a few years ago a famous Japanese statesman informed him, "On the day Commodore Perry sailed into our harbors in 1854, we decided to be a sea power. We studied every form of government. Then we took Bismarck's as our model—only with us instead of a Prussian army, the navy with its control of the seas will be our tool for expansion."

Years ago the Japs decided to be the overlords of the Orient and to push out all western powers. Then patiently, step by step, they added Formosa, Korea, the lost German territories, Manchoukuo, lands won by the "China incident", French Indo-China and Thailand. Now they intend to make the Pacific a Japanese lake. Always, says the admiral, "they fully prepared for each new move. Talk about their having few resources is stupid. They have stored up fabulous reserves. They are extraordinary efficient planners and hence they are convinced in their own minds that they will win this war. That is why we must never again underestimate our deadly opponent."

—Albert N. Leman.

Another Victory Over M. D. Quakery

By J. A. Felton

SEBRING, Fla.— For many years the doctors killed patients by bleeding. In that way they killed George Washington and many other prominent persons.

For many years the best doctors fought the killing practice of bleeding, and they finally won the battle.

When the killing practice of bleeding patients was abandoned for less murderous methods, there immediately occurred a larger percentage of recoveries, and the medical world shouted: Behold the progress of medical science.

Now another battle has been won. It has been won after years of struggle and persecution and prosecution, at the hands of the medical profession.

Eat for Health

For years a certain group of intelligent persons, ages ahead of the medical profession in health matters, urged the use of proper food to prevent disease, promote health and prolong life. As the medical profession lives and thrives on disease, it waged a bitter battle against these better food advocates.

In the October 1940 issue of the Journal of Health we read:

"The first health food store in the U. S. was opened about 42 years ago. It was the subject of jibes and jokes. Its owner was persecuted, prosecuted and put in jail. It was considered ridiculous that anyone should advocate the eating of health foods as a method of preventing disease." (P.3).

And so the battle went on. Those who advocated better food for health were sneered and scorned by the medical doctors as faddists and fanatics, and they were marked by the medically controlled press as dangerous impostors who should be jailed for the protection of humanity.

But the battle went on, and in 1912 Alfred McCann shocked the nation by exhibiting facts and figures in his book, "Starving America", which even the bitter ridicule of the medically controlled press could not down.

By cold facts and colder logic McCann pointed out and proved that the Science of Nutrition has little relation to a stomach stuffed with denatured, demineralized, devitaminized trash erroneously called food.

The Better Food Campaign that broke loose on the heels of that astonishing revelation could not be scorned down by the medical doctors. It has finally resulted in making the nation so food-conscious as to move the President of the U. S. to ask Diet Experts for a Health Plan. We read:

"WASHINGTON.— President Roosevelt and Vice-President Henry A. Wallace called on 500 assembled nutrition experts to work out methods of strengthening national defenses by improving the people's diet.

"At the opening of the National Nutrition Conference, the President declared in a letter read by Paul V. McNutt, Federal Security Administrator:

"Every survey of nutrition, by whatever methods conducted, shows that here in the United States undernourishment is widespread and serious. The Department of Agriculture has estimated that many millions of men, women and children do not get the foods that science considers essential.

"We do not lack, and will not lack, the means of producing food in abundance and variety. Our task is to translate this abundance into reality for every American family." —Health Culture, July, 1941.

The President asks the Diet Experts for a Health Plan. That seems so strange. Why not ask the Surgeon General of the U. S. Public Health Service for a Health Plan? Is that service so empty and useless that it is not worth consulting for a Health Plan?

U. S. Health (?) Department

"The Department of Agriculture has estimated that many millions of men, women and children do not get the foods that science considers essential," writes the President.

That Department is not supposed to be engaged in health work. Why does such information not come from the Surgeon General of the U. S. Public Health Service? The latter department is supported by the tax payers for the purpose of promoting health. If not doing that, what functions is it performing?

The facts show that the U. S. Public Health Service is engaged in the work of promoting the use of vaccines and serums, and acting as a sales agency for the makers of these poisons, which bring millions to their makers.

The President of the U. S. is forced to turn to the Department of Agriculture for sound health advice, while the U. S. Public Health Service is busily engaged in aiding and assisting the makers of vaccines and serums to dispose of their poisonous products.

At this hour the makers of these poisons are taking in millions of dollars in the sale of their poisons to the government, and army doctors are injecting these poisons by the barrel into the blood of the thousands of healthy men drafted into the army service.

Write a letter of protest against this to the Surgeon General of the Army and see what reply you get. You will then discover how completely the health of the army is under the control of the makers of vaccines and serums.

Scores of good books by able authors have been written on food and feeding since Alfred McCann aroused the nation nearly 30 years ago.

These books have been sneered and scorned by the medical profession, which pays little attention to diet, and has gone right on spreading disease with vaccines and serums, with the net result that the startling record of rejection for military service of young men in the present draft is shocking the nation.

Remember that since World War I a tremendous increase has occurred in compulsory vaccination and inoculation of school children. These boys have now become young men, and are being examined for induction into the army.

And behold the horrible results of injecting poisonous vaccines and serums into the blood stream of these young men when they were boys.

When the sick were no longer murdered by the practice of bleeding, a larger percentage of recoveries immediately occurred, and the medical world cried: Witness the progress of medical science.

When at last we have outlawed and killed the disease-breeding practice of compulsory vaccination and inoculation, a vast increase in the health of the nation will soon appear, and again the false medical world will cry: Witness the progress of medical science.

Medical progress comes from outlawing and abandoning medical methods.

The native tribes in the tropics are shown to be the healthiest people on earth—because they are free from the curse of medical methods and live a more natural life.

Early uses of lemons among the Chinese included use for flavoring perfume and for digestive disorders. A 17th century Chinese scholar wrote that lemons "improved the breath and were grateful to the stomach."

Ben. Franklin

Told the English

By Hon. Chas. G. Binderup
Ex-Member of Congress

In 1713, Benjamin Franklin went to England as Representative of the British Colonies. When he arrived in England he found that the most dire distress, want and need existed. He found the streets covered with unemployed and that the corners were cluttered with beggars. He said to his British friend, "Why is this? What brought about this calamity, poverty and unemployment?" Then he added that in the American colonies there was no poverty, there were no poorhouses, that we did not need poorhouses for we had no one to put in them; there was no unemployment. He stated that everyone was fully employed.

The people of Great Britain could not understand the situation, because they had been in the habit of emptying their penitentiaries and sending them to the colonies. They could not imagine how, having sent their miserable poor people to the colonies, there was anything except unemployment, misery and want. They asked Mr. Franklin to tell them how he accounted for their prosperous conditions, and Benjamin Franklin said:

"That is simple. It is only because in the Colonies we issue our own money. It is called colonial script, and we issue it in the proper proportion to the demand of trade and industry."

It was not very long until this information was brought to the Rothschilds' bank, and they saw that there was a nation that was ready to be exploited, here was a nation that had been setting up an example that they could issue their own money in place of the money coming through the banks. So the Rothschild bank caused a bill to be introduced in the English Parliament which provided that no colonies of England could issue their own money. They had to use English money. Consequently the Colonies were compelled to discard their scrip and mortgage themselves to the Bank of England in order to get money. For the first time in the history of the United States our money began to be based on debt.

Benjamin Franklin stated that in one year from that date the streets of the Colonies were filled with the unemployed, because, when England exchanged with them, she gave the Colonies only half as many units of payment in borrowed money from the Rothschild bank as they had in scrip. In other words, their calculating medium was reduced 50% and everyone became unemployed. The poorhouses became filled according to Benjamin Franklin's own statement.

Mr. Franklin went further than that. He said that this was the original cause of the Revolutionary War. In his own language: "The Colonies would gladly have borne the little tax on tea and other matters had it not been that England took away from the Colonies their money, which created unemployment and dissatisfaction."

Author of "The Good Earth" Protests

(From Jan. 21 Christian Century)

Pearl Buck has spoken a much needed word of protest and warning to TIME magazine—a word that should be taken to heart by the entire American press. Referring to TIME'S use of the terms "yellow bastards" and "Hitler's little yellow friends", the author of THE GOOD EARTH wrote: "The tide of feeling about color runs very high in the Orient. Indians, Chinese, Filipinos and others are sensitive to the danger point about their relation as colored peoples to white peoples. Many Americans do not realize this, but it is true, and we must recognize it or we may suffer for it severely." To Mrs. Buck's warning that all such color-conscious talk is grist for Japan's propaganda mill in the Far East TIME makes a halting reply: It claims that it was only reporting common American comment, and that the word "probably came to the tongues of many men in its strongest meaning—one of moral censure rather than race prejudice—for 'yellow' has long been the word for cowardice and treachery". Such an explanation only succeeds in making a bad matter worse. It reveals the pervasiveness of the very thing against which Mrs. Buck was protesting. Why should "yellow" be a term of moral censure, or "white" a term of honor? Why, except for our race snobbery? We Westerners must get rid of that sort of thing or we will succeed in uniting a large part of humanity against us.

Mr. Banta Protests

Dear Sir:

This will acknowledge your undated letter which makes a vicious attack on the work of a patriotic American whose work was under observation of the Sons of the American Revolution and the — and fully appreciated by both.

I am an American whose record is unblemished as such, whose ancestors fought and died on every battle field from the Revolution down.

It is hitting below the belt to make the inferences you do and of a still lower variety to publish it to besmirch the character of one who has done the service I have and who has been made to suffer for it—and not looking for a "meal ticket" either.

I attended three hospital clinics a week to keep alive and face a serious abdominal operation, yet you write and publish what is little short of treasonable treatment of an American and a patriotic one too.

I feel sure friends will resent what you have done in a vicious attempt to cast aspersions on a service to God and country.

You commend Pelley, but he did not need your good offices and certainly travels far above anything you can ever hope to attain.

I have been several times around the world in my life, in travel, but never before met your kind.

Very truly yours,
EDWIN P. BANTA.

Editor's Note: We also have traveled in this world and never found another. We are original.

Mr. Banta complained in a previous letter that after his counter-spying on Communists the Dies Committee betrayed him and did not protect him in his WPA job. We replied that those who induced him to worm himself into the confidence of Communists to betray them, should take care of him, for we have not much sympathy with any man who woos faith and confidence of any person in order to betray it, even if they are Communists, the act is reprehensible in itself.

Stuff

WASHINGTON.— Although it was a magnificent speech, F. D. R.'s report to the joint session of congress on the "state of the union" did not draw the expected applause. Eloquent lines which his ghost writers (Archie MacLeish and Harry Hopkins) thought would knock the legislators into the aisles left them flat.

Winston Churchill is the man responsible for the somewhat negative reaction to the president's address. The British prime minister is the world's master of English prose—and political poetry. Not even Radio-orator Roosevelt can touch England's political laureate. F. D. R. will never exercise his former charm since Winston did his oratorical stuff in the senate chamber.

By Charles H. Ingersoll
(Of Dollar Watch Fame)

Mark Sullivan devotes a whole precious 'col' to applauding his side-kick, Westbrook Pegler, for telling Congress what it really is—a bunch of half a thousand stooges.

Ingersoll

But both the telling and the applauding may be a little overdue—rather belated surprise—since the name 'rubber stamp' for a Washington senator or representative has long been in regular use—even back unto the Old Deal days.

However, this is an especially trying time for these echoes, when in one day they are required to first, say, at 11 A. M. pass a law 'destroying private enterprise' by controlling all prices. Second, this law must leave out labor from which everything is made. And finally in the P. M. there must be a prohibition of strikes, which the other law invites and the bill of rights permits; 'Merry go round' indeed! When a congress and 48 legislatures once get going contra-clockwise, there is no insanity of which they are incapable.

By the way, the President, and oftener the President's wife, has referred to The Underprivileged. And again they have related how a third of our 132 million people are in this category of the under privileged, defining this word as meaning within the shadow of poverty!

Has the First Lady or the First Gentleman, in their frequent chats, ever gone into the subject of OVER privilege in this great democracy? Have they ever suggested that we wouldn't have so many under privileged if we didn't have a few—only a few—of those who were endowed by the many with privileges? And that ALL privileges were OVER privileges in a democracy worth the name and worth making orations for and fighting wars for. And then, have they noticed that it is the ones who enjoy the most privileges who are the strongest for war; and that they always draw heavily on the many who are UNDER in their privileges, to do all the paying, the bleeding, and the dying, in all the wars?

Is there any better authority on the subject of privilege than Thomas Jefferson? Is there any better authority on the meaning of democracy than he? Is there any better definition, therefore, of democracy, than 'equal rights to all and special privileges to none'? Is there any doubt that this means MONOPOLY? Does this mean peanut monopoly or monopoly of the source of peanuts (and everything else)?

Peanut Economists write books and use thousands of lawyers trying to convict business men, big and little, of monopoly. But they say there is no monopoly of natural resources! And peanut economists are the only kind who are popular with peanut politicians.

So the giant monopoly of the earth itself,

Letters to Gladys

SELFISHNESS IS A VIRTUE

Dear Gladys:

Your attitude towards life interests me very much. You are just going through the same period of spiritual awakening through which I passed at your age and it gives me pleasure to be of assistance to you by letting you profit from the store of my experience.

I am glad that you don't like hypocrisy and are wondering what it is that the Churches are teaching in place of the message of the Christ. You are perfectly right when you say that the teachings of Christ and the laws of nature could not possibly be at loggerheads. Then, of course, to be good one does not have to be sour and protestingly destitute of beauty. Virtue does not mean barrenness, but fullness of enjoyment of the good in this world. God is not a tyrant and a murderer who sends His only son to be crucified to appease Himself because people are sinning. Such a picture of God is blasphemy, you are right about it.

The first law of Nature is selfpreservation. And to love yourself is not wrong, but a necessity, a virtue which you must cultivate properly and intelligently. Duty is NOT the hardest road to travel, but the easiest in the LONG RUN. Duty is the most beautiful road because it protects you from being waylaid and lured off into the jungle and the swamp where you die a lingering death. Stick to duty to YOURSELF and you exercise the first law of nature as well and you are a good Christian to boot.

Who are you anyway? Physically speaking this body of yours is subject to the law of nature. If the babe would not be selfish and suck mother's breasts for all she is worth there would be no Gladys for me to talk to now. What a greedy little babe you were when you just grabbed after mother's full breast. It's yours and when it's delayed in coming you put up a holler and a scream it woke up the whole neighborhood. But we are glad you did it and grew into such a lovely girl. You had to have your milk and have it on time, too.

And as you grew up you had to hold your own among your playmates and not let them impose on you. You were selfish in demanding that you look as nice as the nicest girls and you were right, too. When the boys started to turn their heads and joshed you as you went by and you had your first beau and they teased you, you simply replied to it by making yourself even more beautiful to impress your beau with your importance and his good fortune. That was pure vanity on your part, but look what a lovely girl it made of you. You had to take an interest in yourself to turn out so you are desirable and not a frump.

like Tennyson's brook, goes on forever, surrounded by every protection, and even financed by our 'protective' tariff and our whole system of underground taxes on this mass consumer, which halves consumption and creates millions of unemployed.

What to do in Case of an Air Raid

1. As soon as the bombs start dropping, run like hell. (It doesn't matter where, as long as you run like hell.)

2. Take advantage of opportunities afforded you when the air raid sirens sound the warning of attack. For example:

- If in a bakery, grab some pie or cake, etc.
- If in a tavern, grab a bottle.
- If in a movie, grab a blonde.

3. If you find an unexploded bomb, always pick it up and shake like hell. (Maybe the firing pin is stuck.)

- If that doesn't work, heave it in the furnace. (The fire department will come later and take care of things.)

4. If an incendiary bomb is found burning in a building, throw gasoline on it—you can't put it out anyhow and you might just as well have a little fun.

- If no gasoline is available, throw a bucket of water on it and lie down—you're dead. P. S. The properties of the bomb free the hydrogen from the water, causing rather rapid combustion. (In fact, it will explode with a helluva crash.)

5. Always get excited and holler bloody murder. (It will add to the fun and confusion and scare hell outa the kids.)

6. Drink heavily, eat onions, limburger cheese, etc., before entering a crowded air-raid shelter. (It will make you very unpopular with the people within your immediate vicinity, eliminating any unnecessary discomfort that would be more prevalent if people crowded too closely.)

7. If you should be the victim of a direct bomb hit, don't go to pieces. (Lie still and you won't be noticed.)

8. Knock the air-raid wardens down if they start to tell you what to do. They always save the best seats for themselves and their friends, anyway.

Editor's Note:—The above parody was handed in to us. For goodness's sake, realize it's a joke and DON'T do what it says.

So keep on being selfish; everybody is, God meant us to be, nature forces us to be; so make a good and thorough job of it. Only don't confuse selfishness with crime. Popularly the two have been jumbled together as if they were interchangeable terms and expressed the same thing.

Natural selfishness is a necessity and a virtue. Cultivate it. It will make you a big, a strong, a lovely woman. You will turn out to want to mother others, because you are a true woman. That is what finally selfishness turns into when you are yourself, being the woman you are. To satisfy yourself you will want to mother others. That's why you have two dogs. But don't stop with dogs. Look around and be more useful among your own kind. Your maternal instinct needs cultivating. It needs instruction and discrimination.

And now we come to crime. When selfishness is not cultivated and you have not learned to discriminate, then selfishness turns in to a dangerous and poisonous growth. Discrimination is what must be cultivated along with selfishness. You must learn to think and handle selfishness properly. It is like fire. Fire is good, but when used indiscriminately & jumps over its bounds, then it becomes destructive and its use criminal. Learn to use it within its natural bounds and it is a blessing.

Instead of turning against selfishness, be selfish enough to learn to know the truth. For the love of yourself, learn to know the truth so you will not get hurt in life by fire as well as by crime. The truth will teach you proper discrimination and usage. Be natural, there is no conflict between Christ and Nature. Both are serving God.

With best wishes for your success, KOSTI.

VICTORY

The battle now is over,
The victory is won,
The "enemy" is conquered,
But woe where is my son?

Where are the millions slaughtered
Who died before their time,
What gained we by the bloodshed?
God! I can't make it rhyme!

Which heaven and earth bestow"
Said Christ our gentle Savior
Whom we so tender love.

How come that millions follow
